Dear Ms. Chou,

I am the principal of school that your son goes to. You may not remember me, but we met at the last meeting that we held for parents and teachers. I'm writing to you today because I have some news about Jay that you may not be pleased to hear.

Several of Jay's teachers have come to me with complaints about him in the past few weeks. All of them said that he didn't behave, no matter he was in or out of class. He continued even after he was given warnings and told to stop. His actions have affected the lessons, and some of his classmates have even been hurt by the things that he's said and done. The teachers also told me that they've written to you many times about this, but you haven't answered yet.

I think the best way to fix this problem is for you to come in and meet with me. With your help, we might have a better chance of understanding what's going on with Jay. Please note, though, that if I fail to hear from you, stronger action may be taken to stop him from acting this way.

Sincerely,
Randall Kelly

e. Our Earth

The Earth is ours to enjoy

For every little girl and boy.

But we must always be aware

That all its beauty we must share

With all the children yet to come,

Who want to laugh and play and run

Around the trees and in the fields.

So we must keep our planet free

From messy trash and debris

With air that's clean and fresh and clear

For all to breathe from year to year.

We must never ever abuse

Our sweet Earth that's ours to use.

f. Daddy,

When I told you I want to marry Mike, you said a 22-year-old girl is too young to get married. You also thought that Mike and I didn’t really understand each other because we’ve only dated for one year. But I don’t think so. I’m smart and old enough to know Mike loves me, and we know each other well enough to start a family.

Mike used to smoke a lot and wear long hair. But he stopped smoking because I hate the smell. He also cut his hair short because I don’t like men with long hair. Isn’t it great to marry a man like him?

Amy

Amy,

I think you’ve known Mike long enough as a friend, but maybe not long enough to marry him. You’re still young, and I hope you can spend more time understanding him better. Mike’s changes show he cares about you. But both of you should know love doesn’t really mean changing or even losing oneself.

I love you so much that I never thought my little girl would leave me this early. But if you think you’re ready for a new life, I will see you off with a smile and best wishes.

g. Do you get tired easily? Maybe the way you live has something to do with that. Check the following list of actions to see if they are causing the problem.

1. Everything has to be perfect, and you’re not happy when it’s not. You put a lot of energy into reaching this goal, but sometimes it is over your abilities. In the end, the only thing you have to show for it is wasted time.

2. Junk food is a big part of your diet. Unfortunately, junk food is unhealthy and makes your blood sugar higher. To bring that back down to a safe level, you need to change your diet and get more fresh fruit and vegetables.

3. Your desk needs to be tidied up. Get things in order by cleaning off your desktop, arranging your things neatly, and putting things that you don’t need in the drawers. Before leaving the office, tidy everything up for the next morning.

4. You always go to bed late on weekends. If you stay up late Saturday night and sleep on Sunday morning, you will have problems getting to sleep Sunday night. What you need to do is to wake up at your usual hour and take a 20-minute nap in the afternoon if you have to.

5. You don’t exercise when you feel tired. The best thing to do is to exercise three times a week for at least 30 minutes each time, no matter what. That will help your body run better.
